

RELATIONSHIPS

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN SEX, ROMANCE, RELATIONSHIPS & LOVE/CLASS #6

Everything comes from above - down or within - out. When we attempt anything from just the physical level then we fail because it does not have the substance of all the other levels, especially that of Spirit.

The Spirit of Love is IN and THROUGH all levels because everything in the whole of creation is intertwined with the essence of Love, which is the essence of God. The Spirit of Love is behind sex, romance and relationships.

Romance brings forth the beauty of Love and the two are joined together for the fulfillment of the Creative Force that calls to all creation. Romance is feelings and emotions that come directly from the Godhead where Divine Love originates. It filters down through the mental level, down into the physical, always colored with Divine Love. Your degree of awareness of this love is determined by your consciousness and ability to be open.

It is the emotions of romance, touching the heights, bringing forth into our conscious awareness the beauty and grandeur of Love, that stimulates the Creative Force. The Creative Force is the actual energy flow that comes through us during sexual intercourse. Sex experienced in love and with love, is one of the greatest feelings and experiences that mankind has while in the physical. Sex is the union between romance and love in which we experience Life more completely. Relationships then become more complete and fulfilling. It is the combination of Love and romance experienced from our Higher Selves.

As Divine Love is activated within sex, romance and relationships the entire experience of sharing with another human being becomes very satisfying. Without a balance of these four any one of them can seem empty and meaningless. The very possible ideal is to combine these four expressions in your personal life. This can easily be done by being aware of each area, of the Divine Love within you and making a conscious effort to express love in all these areas.

We must forget our little self, our personality, and allow this God part of us, that is much higher, to come forth. When we allow our Higher Self to come forth into our everyday, conscious awareness we will experience the beauty and joy of oneness with our mate, God and all of creation. The earlier classes reminded you to be alert to your partner's interests and likes. By doing this, you become more selfless and can generate the love from your Higher Self to the Higher Self of your mate.

As we identify with our Higher Self and allow the beauty of life to be intermingled with romance, love and sex then we can express the beauty of God that is within. God's beauty and Love is meant to be expressed. It matters not what or who it is that sparks these higher feelings of love and romance into our awareness. It DOES matter that we experience, express and share this with others.

We are our brother's keeper. We are meant to live together in harmony, peace, love and abundance. You can begin by improving your personal life and then extending your Higher Self to your mates. Once you have attained a consistent level of expression of love towards yourself and mate then you can continue this circle of love to others.

The love and romance connected with the Creative Force is of the Higher Realms and is to be shared in all of its glory, beauty, joy and ecstasy for it is the core of Life Itself. As we each attain this awareness we will set an example for the world to follow of brotherly love, peace and harmony.
